uccessful Entertainment and Sale by

Societies of St. Andrew's Parish in Union Hall.

The annual sale and entertainment given by the societies of St. Andrew's parish opened auspiciously in Union hall Thursday evening. The hall was crowded to the doors long before the turtain went up and the large audience vaited patiently and in expectation for the opening act of the comedy, A Night n a Police Station, staged under the direction of William J. Banfield. The play was written especially for the eveling's production by John McKinley and from start to finish it was full of nterest, laughter and enthusiasm. The players acted their parts in a most praiseworthy manner and their costumes, the result of local handiwork, were appropriate. The scene was laid in a police station and many local and novel features, among them being sifter drill by 12 children, sailors inan oar drill and dance, the City's Finest, drill, new monologues, coon songs and other vocal and instrumental music by local talent were highly enloyed. Fifty people took part in the play, the cast being as follows: Captain of police, Raymond Wil-Turner; Admiral Mitchell, John H. McNeely; Mayor Murphy 2d, Charles ianitor of station. William Evans: reporter William Hollin. Policemen-Albert A. Andrews, William Hall, Charles Erwin, Jr., C. Ben-jamin Morgan, Roy Larkin, Wallace Larkin, William G. Andrews, John

Barwell, Thomas Sears, William Evans, Howard Larkin Stanley Mulkins. Sailors-William Hollin, Howard Rydholm, Norman Soule, Ellis Taylor, George J. Drescher, Frank Burke. Suffragettes-Miss Emma Baker, Miss Martha Campbell, Mrs. Alexan-Finlayson, Mrs. Louis J. Bruette Hoboes-Johnston Banfield, Fred-erick Fleming, Arthur Rydholm, Frederick Baker, John J. Farrell, William Crowe, Jr.,

Cooking Girls in Sifter Drill-Mabel W. McKinley, Cecil Stevens. Effic Redhead, Eunice Taft, Edna Prodell, Alice Baker, Emily Haden, Helen Prodell Melissa Shaw, Helen Munz, Hazel King, Fannie Kendall

The excellent and nicely arranged programme consisted of a sifter drill r 12 cooking girls; monologue, Charles Erwin, Jr.; Hebrew monologue and song, At the Yiddisher Ball, Arthur F. Campbell, Jr.; suffragettes, in speeches and song, by "Gen. Rosalle Jones" and her followers; song. When Was a Lad, John H. McNeely: oar drill and hornpipe dance by sailors; manual of arms, patrolmen; speech by the "Mayor": police song, Albert J. Turner: violin solo, Frank Benson; oboes' convention and song; song, Sweetheart Let's Go A-Walking, Archhald P. McDougall and whistling chorus by the entire company. The 12 cooking girls were trained by Mrs. F. J. Bohanan and Charles R. Nichol and Albert J. Turner drilled the patrolmen. The sailors were drilled by Mr. and Mrs. Archibald Mac-Dougall and Mr. and Mrs. William Crowe, Jr., trained the hoboes. Mrs. Louis J. Bruette, Mrs. William H. Taft and the Woman's guild constructed the ostumes worn by the players and Willlam J. Banfield was stage manager. The accompanist and musical director.

Miss Hazel Banfield, acquitted herself in a manner worthy of much praise. Following the entertainment ice cream, cake, flowers, aprons and orangeade were offered for sale and e booths were most generously patronized. The ice cream table was in charge of Mrs. William H. Taft and Mrs. Louis J. Bruette, and Mrs. George Stevens and Mrs. John McKinley were In charge of the cake table, Miss Martha Campbell and Miss Ora Crumb having charge of the fancy articles. The flower table was in charge of Mrs. ydney Chappell and Mrs. William Baker and the apron table in charge of Mrs. Benjamin Balls and Mrs. Wiliam Hamilton. Miss Florence Kirker and Miss Hannah Duncan had charge of the candy, the orangeade table be-Dolbeare and Mrs. William Banfield. MRS. HOWARD WAGNER.

Writes Personal Letter to Her Druggist About a Bad Cough.

Mrs. Howard Wagner of Milton, Pa., writes her druggist as follows: two months I suffered from a bad co from which I could get no relief, then I began to cough and would cough intil midnight every night. I sulted a doctor and took two kinds of medicine, but without benefit. One day seeing Vinol, your cod liver iron medicine advertised in my pape sent for a bottle. After taking the second day I did not cough much and felt stronger, and at end of a week I could go to bed and sleep without coughing once. I have new taken in all, six bottles, and of appointing a new president will never felt better in my life. I have also be discussed. A large attendance line appetite and have gained twel is expected at the meeting. much I want others to know about The curative and strengthening properties of Vinol built up Mrs. Wagner's health and her cough disappeared as natural result.
